ALCOHOL IS A PROTOPLASMIC POISON

In every bottle of whiskey, gin, brandy, rum, wine, or any other intoxicating liquor, there is a poison ingredient. It is called Ethyl Alcohol. That is what makes the drink intoxicating. The word "intoxicating" means "to poison." Ethyl alcohol is a protoplasmic poison. It destroys protoplasm and through protoplasm in the present generation. The Jukes Family made a long record of the kind of poison effects of alcoholism in the past, stamping its curse upon the children into the third and fourth generation, and beyond!

With liquor and more easy to obtain in Alabama than in any other State, we are already witnessing a protoplasmic poisoning that is widening among our people in definite ratio to the larger volume of alcohol being consumed. MAKING GOD A PARTNER

It is considered remarkable that a man who has invested $200,000 in an industrial plant near Fowkes, Ala., should purchase $2,000,000 of the stock of the same company.

A news story refers to the determination of a millionaire manufacturer of road machinery to make God a partner in the business as the strongest plan. After making his business known, success and electricity became the servant of man.

It is in a "marriage pact," it is a strange fact. It certainly should not be strange for a man to put his faith in God—to believe in the promises of God are faithfully made and faithfully kept.

It is sadly true that business very easily forgets God, yet men who have taken their religion into their business have made some very remarkable records of success.

Business needs nothing more than to practice the principles enunciated in the Golden Rule. Many a man is tempted to resort to sharp practices in his business, but he does not realize that the temptation, the merchant of an earlier day who put sand in his brown sack made a fine profit, but it is not that first. Honesty is the best policy. Principle is fundamental. Policy is superficial. Both are good, but the latter is the better. The merchant of an earlier day who put sand in his brown sack made a fine profit, but it is not that first. Honesty is the best policy. Principle is fundamental. Policy is superficial. Both are good, but the latter is the better.

Some of America's great business leaders and industrialists have seen clearly the need for the principles of Christianity in the conduct of business. They have seen that the big factory and the little shop, an honest partnership with God can't be counted on to pay the bills of dividends—and all good. (Albany) G. A. Herald.

Gets Relics of Mound Builders

St. Louis Doctor Pursues a Hobby and Uncovers Important Data.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 23.—Dr. Paul F. Titterton, physician who made a hobby of collecting relics of the mound builders, in the last eight years has uncovered hundreds of prehistoric burial sites in the Middle West and is now endeavoring to satisfy a boyish urge "to collect things."

Dr. Titterton said he spent most of his time as a boy near Jerseyville, Ill., collecting arrowheads and Indian relics found on the surface. The desire remained with him as he grew older, however, and eight years ago he began to excavate Indian mounds. He has now unearthed 476 burials in addition to hundreds of relics.

SOUTHERN CATTLEMAN TOUR
ALABAMA LIVESTOCK AREA

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—An expanded market for Alabama beef cattle was listed this week as the major benefit of a three-day tour during which nearly 100 breeders, feeders and buyers from half a dozen Southern States viewed at first hand the booming cattle industry in Alabama's Black Belt.

More than 500 miles in the Alabama cattle country were traveled as the visitors inspected herds in 10 counties. Such outstanding beef herds as those of Passmore and Smith, at Prattville; Ed McCarty, at Lowndesboro; Kirkwood Plantation, at Fannasdale; R. E. Lambert, at Dillingham; Meadowbrook Farm, at Edgewater, and Sumter Farm and Stock Company, at Geiger, were visited. Most of the cattle inspected were Herefords, but many Angus and Shorthorns also were seen.

Although the out-of-state visitors were brought here chiefly to view cattle, they were impressed equally as much by the quality of Alabama pastures. Many of them declared they had never seen better pasture lands and forecast that the Black Belt is destined to become the outstanding cattle-producing area of the South.

Many of the herds inspected were purebred stock and all the herd bulls were either purebred Herefords or Angus.

The tour was directed by Luther Fuller, general farm products agent of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, and Dr. H. S. Sugg, Auburn livestock specialist. These two organizations, together with the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce and the State Department of Agriculture, sponsored the tour.

T. C. Reid, field agent for the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce traveled along of the party and made advance arrangements. Among the events arranged for the visitors were barbecues at Carleville, Uniontown and "Thornhill," country home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Thornton, of Watsonia, Alabama.

Although many of the visitors made efforts to buy cattle, only a few hundred head changed hands during the tour. The abundance of feed made Alabama farmers reluctant to sell at this time, although numerous orders for calves and feeder cattle were booked for Fall delivery.

MR. AND MRS. BRYAN
GIVE AL FRESCO PARTY—

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bryan entertained at an informal al fresco party. For this occasion tables were placed on the back lawn where a delicious supper was served and greatly enjoyed.

Sharing the hospitality of the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Luther Vaughan, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Ringford and son, Frazer, Miss Bernice Vaughan, Elmer Chapman and Dorothy Murphree.

Judge and Mrs. J. A. Carnley, Fleetwood Carnley, Mrs. C. S. Alford and Miss Evelyn Alford left Saturday for Atlanta to attend the Baptist World Alliance.

Sharing the hospitality of the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Luther Vaughan, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Ringford and son, Frazer, Miss Bernice Vaughan, Elmer Chapman and Dorothy Murphree.

Judge and Mrs. J. A. Carnley, Fleetwood Carnley, Mrs. C. S. Alford and Miss Evelyn Alford left Saturday for Atlanta to attend the Baptist World Alliance.

Although many of the visitors made efforts to buy cattle, only a few hundred head changed hands during the tour. The abundance of feed made Alabama farmers reluctant to sell at this time, although numerous orders for calves and feeder cattle were booked for Fall delivery.

Mrs. J. C. Barnes, who was before her recent marriage Miss Virginia Ward, was honored with a miscellaneous shower on Thursday afternoon of last week in the home of Mrs. O. D. Williams, in New Brockton, with Misses Nadine Ingram and Miriam Sawyer, Mesdames Peacock, G. C. Hudson, Bill Wise, Bob Wells and H. B. Jones as joint hostesses.

The floral decorations were of ferns, roses and atreides, a color scheme of pink and white predominating.

Miss Gladys Fuller, gowned in peach colored net, received the guests at the door. Mrs. Hudson, whose costume was chaste and chaste, presided over the bride's book. Miss Nadine Ingram, who wore blue net, presented the guests to the receiving line, composed of Mrs. Williams, Miss Barnes, the bride, Mrs. W. H. Ward, mother of the bride, Mrs. Chapman, and Mrs. J. A. Crittenden.

Mrs. W. C. McTyre, Mrs. Kathleen T. Ellis, Mrs. R. L. Cooper and Miss Elizabeth Tuck, wearing peach colored net, directed guests to the dining room, where pink and white brick ice cream and cake were served. Those serving were Miss Martha Ward, sister of the bride, gowned in blue chiffon; Miss Mary Folsom, wearing white organdy; Miss Marie Shilgrove, attired in blue tulle; and Miss Maudie Grimes, wearing figured crepe.

The guests were then shown to the gift rooms, presided over by Mrs. H. B. Jones and Mrs. Bill Wise.

Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by Miss Maudie Grimes, Miss Anna Jones and Mrs. H. B. Jones.

Miss Laura Brock, wearing peach colored net, directed guests to the dining room, where pink and white brick ice cream and cake were served.
